THIS HAIR WASH has been prepared by us for the last 20 years. Its sale is steadily increasing in India, the Straits and Japan. It possesses all the qualities of a Hair Oil or Pomnde without their stickiness. It induces a fielthy action of the scalp and nourishes the Hair. Dandruff never appears whilst it is in use. It contains none but the best ingredients, and the greatest care is taken in the compounding. When the Hair falls off after fever or any other sickness, this Wash will surely prove of the greatest value.

From its great nourishing power on the follicles it may in time cause Hair to return to its natural color; it; however, does not contain a particle of any dyeing ingredient. Using it constantly will most certainly prevent the Hair falling. It is cleanly in use, the smallest quantity sufficing. It has no sediment, and therefore requires no shaking.

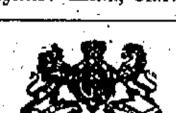

DIRECTIONS.

A small portion to be poured upon the Head, and to be rubbed into the roots of the Hair.

No Pomade required.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1881. HONGKONG FORTY YEARS AGO.

is as follows :--

to arrangements preliminary to a treaty intended to be drawn up, between H.B.M. Plenipotentiary and H.I.M. Commissioner, the Island of Hongkong was ceded to the British Crown. The Missionary Brethren Among the passengers departed per the themselves of an early opportunity of visiting a spot, which seemed destined to be the seat of an important settlement, and to offer facilities for carrying on those operations with advantage which hitherto either from local inconveniences, or from existing prejudices have been greatly restricted, if not entirely precluded, made a party of eight, and on the 8th of February embark-ed on a lorcha which had been hired for the occasion. The island of Hongkong lies in an E.N. . direction, and about 40 miles distant from Macao. Having had a favour able breeze all night, we reached the anchorage at 7 o'clock on the morning of the 9th after a passage of 13 hours. The body of the British fleet was lying in the harbour, —the advantages of which could not but strike an observer, since ships of the line who leave the Colony with him. were riding there within one cable length the beach, the intervals being occasionally occupied by a frigate or a sloop of war, beunder the flag-staff which had been raised on a high mound that rises absorbly from the shore. In the neighbourhood of this was the encampment of the 35th Bengal native regiment, numbering 600 men. little purpose, having discovered only a found in serious crimes, and an increase few hamlets (one of them connected with a of 632 cases or 16.93 per pent in minor granite-quarry) and met with a very small offences, number of inhabitants, so that we determined to retrace our steps, and renew our researches on the following day. Having during the night of the 9th changed the Museum for the week ending Feb. 30 .-barth of our lorchs and anchored her abreast the valley of Wang-nei-chang we landed next day, and having engaged two of the natives to serve as guides, we proceeded up wed, the valley. Being of very limited extent Thur, we soon left the valley below us; we as Fri. cended some rather lofty mountains whence | Bat from our elevated situation we could see a Sun village that lay in the valley from which we had just emerged; but it was very small, and the inhabitants were reckoned at 400.

We were now taking a S.E. direction in expectation of reaching a fine and rather populous village called Taltan (Tai-tamtook). After a tedious travel it came in sight, but our expectations were by no means realized, for there were not more than 24 houses, and, seconding to the villagers themselves, not more than 90 persons. Here we took a little refreshment, and then continued our journey in a S. E. direction. when at length we spied a large village on an isthmus branching off from the southern part of the island. By great exertions we reached Chik Choo ("vermillion pillar") for that is the name of the said village. Here we were speedily surrounded by hundreds, who were anxious to examine the strangers. They tried to be kind, but were excessively rough. The village itself extended along the shore for about one quarter of a mile. A large number of boats lay in the harbour, and it was evident that a good deal of business was transacted there, which was further confirmed by the number of shops it contained. Still there could not be more than 1,200 inhabitants belonging to the place. This was the only village that, so far as we observed, possessed a temple worthy the name. But the inner aspect was disappointing, every idol, and idol appurtenance being covered with dust and cobwebs, which the keeper himself was nowise careful to conceal, nor to hide from view the evidences of his being a devotee to the opium pipe.

Having satisfied ourselves with this spot we set our faces to return to our landing. place, and being disgusted with the route we had taken in the early part of the day, we followed another, which we were assured, would lead as speedily to our starting There was only another village on the island which had not been visited. It was that properly called Hongkong, from which too the island derives its name. But as it was getting late in the day, and we understood that it was small and of trifling importance we determined to pass it by. At length we reached the station from which we started in the morning, and having re-embarked we weighed anchor. and early on the morning of the 11th reached Macao in safety after an absence of only two days and three nights. Hongkong is an island which would certainly never have been selected for Missionary purposes. nor indeed for commercial objects but on account of the local advantages; of a most commodious harbour, and of proximity to the provincial mart. From what we have already noted it must have been observed that it is one of the islands that lie near the mouth of the river of Canton, in lat. about 22.12 N. and in long. 114.12 E. Its circuit is 30 miles, while its greatest length from N. to S. may be 10, and its breadth E. to W. 6 miles. The territorial aspect is rugged, mountainous, generally barren being cultivated and cultivable only to a very small extent, while the whole population of the island does not, at the highest estimate. exceed 2,500. The inhabitants seemed to be very poor indeed, and the only badge of native authority we could see was at Chik Choo, but even that appeared to have become null and void, since as we understood, all the officers had removed on the taking possession of the island in Her gracious Majesty's name. However, the local advantages of the island, as we have said, are greatly in its favour. There are suitable sites for a town, both on the N. and S. sides, as also on the neutral territory which lies on the peninsula jutting from the mainland. On the North it is commanded by the mainland at the distance of only one mile, while all a Passengens arriving in Hongkong, or any round it is protected by islands of various other persons who may desire to con- size, and population. In fine, there is no suit the files of local, China, Japan, question but that in the course of time, the American, English, Indian or Austra- island of Hongkong will, if retained by the lian newspapers, are invited to call at British, rise in importance, and influence, the "CHINA MAIL" Office, where over until it become the first insular Emperium

THE Crescent City Courier announces that | Eliot was a rand-boned, quiet the Chinese curse of opium-dens has reached Mist city, and issues the following warning to the young men who frequent them :--

We have been credibly informed, and could give the names if we so desired, of quite a number of young men in this place between the age of 16 and 21 who are in the habit of visiting the China houses and smoking opium until they are almost blind drunk from its effect. It seems almost incredible that we have young men in this community who will degrade themselves by resorting to this lowest of vices, but it is nevertheless true, but we hope they may see the error of their ways and abandon the practice before their names are made public and before the authorities take the matter is not stopped. Now, this is no affair which personally concerns us, but we feel it our men, to let them know that their acts are known and to get them if possible to reform of life! from this terrible habit.

THE attempts made to naturalize the persimmon of Japan in the State of California appear to have been very successful. About two years since a number of trees were forwarded to Stockton, and met with ready sale among the fruit growers of that locality. The result of the experiment is thus told by the Stockton Independent :-

A few days ago W. Bugbee, the keeper of the city scales, exhibited a sample of the beautiful fruit at his place of business. Mr Bugbee has in his garden, in the northeastern part of the city, eleven thrifty young trees, only one of which has borne fruit. It is known as the Mino variety. He has two other varieties, all said to be notable in Japan for their great excellence. Mr Bugbee's little tree, the fruit of which he exhibits with commendable pride, is no thicker than a man's thumb, yet the tiny plant has matured twenty persimmons of large size, sixteen of which are still on the branches. The fruit is about the dimenthat of the orange and the flower of the eschacholtzias but has faded to the color of a frost-bitten tomato. In shape it is slight ly oblong, rounded apex, flesh soft, melting, and of a fine flavor.

*H. E. A. Silveria da Mota, Contre Amiral and the passing of the accounts by this Envoye Extra Sidinary of H. S. M. the Emperor of Brazil, arrived by the City of Peking at San Francisco, on December 27th. A San Francisco contemporary says :--

At one of our last sessions, when our term of service was nearly ended, our attention was officially directed to an article in one of our daily papers, describing some of the underground filth and disease of Chinatown. Some of the localities so vividly described by the journalist were visited by members of the Grand Jury, and after making allowance for the desire of a writer press to be sensational, we are obliged to admit that the description of some of these subterranean holes was in its principal features, based upon facts. Filth. squalor and stench indescribable prevailed. and the atmosphere is laden with the fumes of opium and a reeking exhalation of these wretched beings, a hundred of whom are semetimes crowded into a space which, under the cubic-air ordinance, ought to be occupied by ten at most. Opium dens, gambling hells and houses of prostitution of the lowest and vilest sort abound upon every side, drawing victims by no means exclusively from the Asiatic race, and all this in the very center of San Francisco. with its vast wealth, commerce and boasted civilization. Can we not find a lawful way to oblige these people to live decently, or else to remove to the outskirts of the city, where their dens of vice would be less accessible to the youth of our own race? Of course we do not claim that these statements contain anything that is new to the people of this city and State, but we once again bring the facts to the attention of the public, because we believe that the Acting Sergeant Harper, at the Central Station. Deceased must have left the Station very shortly afterwards and seems to have gone thence down Graham Street where he was found, at about a quarter to ten lying down insensible at the foot of the staircase of No. 12, in that street,—a nese. No one in the house had seen the deceased fall, but he had evidently attempted to ascend the stairs of the house, probback down the steep stairs with which those houses are provided, and in the fall received injuries which at once proved fatal, by causing concussion of the spinal cord. De-The funeral took place this afternoon

An inquest on the body of the above was S. Northoote, Esq., and a Jury consisting 1. Among liturary women of England of Mesers W. A. F. Schmidt. H. Garrels. and M. M. C. da Roza, when the following

ECHOES FROM THE STRAITS. VEGETARIANISM,

(From a Correspondant.) -PENANG, Jan. 26.

If you have no objection-to a little harmless "gup" and gossip, here is something which may amuse your readers even if it does nothing else.

I have never paid much attention to the subject of vogetarianism for the simple reason that I do not believe in it. One of my correspondents says it is peculiarly countries like China and the Straits. says :- "Were I in Penang or any other fruit-abounding country, nothing should induce me to est the flesh of animals short of the utmost ease and comfort. goes on to give thirteen reasons why we all but how it occurred there was no evidence ought to be vegetarians. They read as

1. Vegetarians are comparatively free from disease, and they have never been known to have cholera either here (in England) or in America. 2. Spartans, in their period of conquest, were vegetarians. On becoming flesh-eaters they declined. 3. Most of the great philosophers have bedn vegetarians: e.g. Plato, Pythagoras. Plutarch, Diogenes, Zene, Chrysostom, Seneca, Porphyry, Wesley, Franklin, John Howard, Shelley, Wordsworth, J. Pitman. 4. Vegetarians are stronger, more hardy, capable of greater endurance than flesh 5. Vegetarian diet gives more beautiful appearance to man's tace. Irish women iving mainly on potatoes, are an instance. 6. 'The trade of a "butcher" is repulsive and demoralising. 7. His anatomical structure shows that man is by nature adapted to live on fruit.

9. Vegetarian diet is more economical. 10. So much of the meat eaten is diseased ,-pre- tuberculous and cancerous.

11. Vegetarian diet is most favourable to the development of intellectual faculties. 12. Vegetarianism is a complete antidote to gout, and some forms of rheumatism. Even Abernethy, a flesh-eater, was comcompelled to acknowledge the truth of this on his own person. 13. Vegetarianism practically discourages war, slavery, cruelty, and inhumanity in every shape or form. So much for vegetarianism. The reason given under No. 5 will attract the attention of your fair readers, who, I trust, like Agrippa of old, will be "almost persuaded" to become-not Christians, I hope they are that already but vegetarians.

THE CHINA REVIEW.

MIHE-widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details. THE CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matier. The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Costoms, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East." generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latiu, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Por-tuguese, are admissible. Endoavours are made to present a resume in each works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review

Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references, being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which though asking for information, furnish newor unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August. 1875, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for | Sailors' Home, West Point. the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and enterprising Review. It is a sixty preed, bi-monthly, repartory of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Keview. Address China Review, Hongkong.-Northern

Christian Advocate (U.S.) Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review :- " This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say | Queen's Road Central. nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's She King, by the ceived, and transmitted to the Directors | Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connexion with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. Ø. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of-literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to Coast ports. It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and accurities necessary to place it on a business andlegal footing. The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, l'enang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, — consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of The field open to a paper of this descrip
